BETTY AND JOE INTRODUCE

Superintendent A. C. Hampton

"Betty and Joe" looked to Superintendent Hampton this year for a program with an emphasis placed upon health. So Physical Education supervisors were provided for both girls' and boys' activities and money was advanced to put the high school gymnasium in a condition second to none in the state.

Principal E. D. Towler

With the final records filed and the last-minute recommendation questionnaires filled out, Principal Towler closed the door on another successful year. One thing that stood out in the year's program was the fact that the tempo of school life, both curricular and extracurricular, was definitely stepped up in keeping with the post war trend.

Student Council

To the student council of Astoria High goes the credit of running a very successful year in 1946-47. Even before school officially started, they determined the price of regular and season tickets for the football games and when to have their meetings.

Presided over by the student body president, Gordon Wolfgram, the council continued its putting on of Notional Assemblies, forwarding letters, sponsoring pep assemblies and various other student activities.

Later in the year they determined prices of basketball tickets and sponsored an exchange assembly with Seaside High. Throughout the year they handled efficiently any problem that came up.

Seniors '47

In September, 1944, one hundred and thirty-four sophomores started their checkered three-year journey through high school. Their group presented a sophomore party, instead of a Soph Hop, and a student body assembly. The girls busied themselves by shining trophies, and the boys were kept active polishing the shields. The girls, like their predecessors, wore the traditional green ribbons.

"Spring Green", the Junior Class play, was presented in the spring of 1946, under the direction of Miss Zoe Allen, at the Viking Theater. The Junior Prom, with its motif of "Treasure Island", was successfully carried out on May second. This class also participated in the Victory Bond Drive.

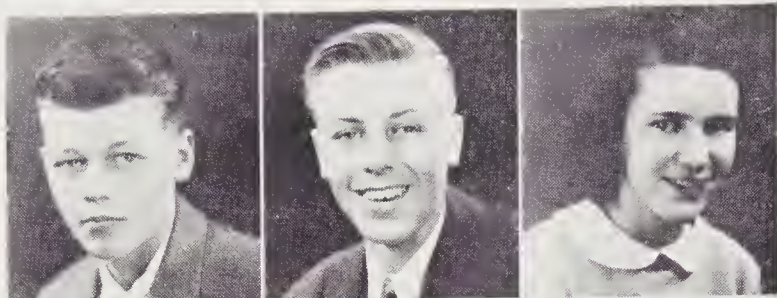

This year as the students walked down the aisles at the U. S. O., in the traditional blue caps and gowns, they looked back and remembered the enjoyment of putting forward their best to present the Senior Play during the first of December. Following the play was the Senior Ball—its theme was "White Christmas". Talents of the class were brought to light when the seniors performed on the Senior Class Day. Six seniors made grades for Torch Honor this year.

Juniors

The Junior Class carried on during their second year in high school in the same energetic spirit as they did when they were sophs. As sophs they contributed the most of all the classes to the Junior Red Cross, sponsored a Notional Assembly program, presented the Soph Hop, and did many of the traditional duties of sophomores; such as polishing shields, wearing green ribbons, and running errands for the seniors. This class was very proud of its two lettermen, Bob Kittilson and Bill Korpela. During the year twelve sophs were admitted to the Torch Honor. Bob Kittilson, president, assisted by Bill Korpela, vice president, Marilyn Salmonson, secretary, Shirley Hillard, treasurer, and Philip Syvonen, sergeant at arms, did much to make their Sophomore year outstanding.

As juniors they kept up their successful record by winning a yell contest, being tops in blue cord holders during the year, presenting the Junior Prom, and putting on their play, which was directed by Miss Allen.

Junior-Senior Special Chorus

New subjects were introduced into the schedule of the Junior-Senior Special chorus by Miss Isabel Smoots, head of the Music Department. Harmony was taught and also transposition of notes of the various instruments. The girls made booklets containing the origin and progress of the symphonic orchestra. Visual aids were used to illustrate the musical instruments.

The chorus of twenty-four participated in the exchange assembly at Seaside and gave a radio performance for the American Legion during February. P. T. A. members also had the opportunity of hearing the songsters twice at their regular meetings. This active group participated in the operetta production.

Choruses

The Music Department, under the direction of Miss Isabel Smoots, presented a variety of programs. A mixed chorus of ninety-eight voices gave "The Messiah", by Handel, as a Christmas cantata. The "Hallelujah Chorus", given by the entire group, was featured. Pianists were Janet Howell, Juanita Roberts, Evelyn Nygoord, Barbora Williams, Darlene Bumalo, and Lucy Kuluris. Caroling in the halls was also on the Christmas program.

Their performance at graduation featured the march "Glory to Isis". The Chorus entertained the high school P. T. A.

By far the most important contribution was the presentation of an operetta for the first time in ten years.

Difficulties which had to be overcome were such things as teaching the boys to follow the piano, read music, and sing together. This year the boys contributed to the Christmas cantata and to the Operetta.

The purpose of the Tri-Y's is to develop the three-fold life of every member and to form a good foundation for her future. Pat Malinen filled the presidency, with vice president, Elva Hendrickson; secretary, Lais Johnson; treasurer, Nancy Lovell, and the advisers, Miss Olin and Mrs. Logue.

As a special feature the cabinet officers published an Etiquette Book for high school students. ## Astor Post

Through the tireless efforts of our energetic editor, Nancy Josephson, the Astor Post once more reached its goal of serving the students with fifteen issues of news and entertainment. Featurizing the front page stories was the new achievement this year to bring the Astor Post to a higher standard.

Duane Hansen, assistant editor, had charge of the sports page, with Richard Bjork managing the second page and Lisbeth Trullinger the third page.

Miss Hansen, new to the school system this year, took over the Business Staff, and with the assistance of Elmer Koski, advertising manager, and Janet Howell, business manager kept the business end of the paper on top.

Astor Post Staff

The Astor Post staff put a final "thirty" on the last publication of the year, the Senior edition, to round out another successful year. Banging typewriters and scribbling pencils, which will now be silent until fall, were heard throughout the year coming from the Astor Post office, especially on deadline days. With the aid of the adviser, Miss Curry, the paper came out on schedule.

Zephyrus

Under the capable leadership of the editor, Betty Lowrey, assistant editor, Ethel Kamara, and adviser, Miss Fern Curry, the Zephyrus was once again published for the students of Astoria High School. One of the first duties of the cabinet was to choose a theme. Each one on the cabinet composed a model Zephyrus from which the theme for the real book was conceived.

To meet the higher cost in production, the price of the book had to be raised to two dollars and a half. To have as good a book as the previous edition, this increase was necessary.

This year is the fiftieth anniversary of the Zephyrus.

To make the student body 100 per cent on student taxes and to fill the subscription list for the Zephyrus were the main purposes of the livewires. This year collecting the extra dollar was an additional task which Business Manager Bernadine Anderson and Miss Lamb, assisted by these diligent workers, had to cope with.

This group also distributed the Astor Posts to their respective roll rooms.

Livewires

This group did many odd jobs which had to be done so that there could be a Zephyrus. Contributing their individual talents they completed their specific assignments. Some delved deeply into records and fact to get the necessary statistics which are required in many stories, while others worked long hours doing the typing which is vital to the compiling of any publication. Letter printing was also done by staff members.

Operetta

"Jerry of Jericho Road"

"Jerry of Jericho Road", a two-act operetta, was presented by the music department under the direction of Miss Smoots.

The operetta, which was the first given at Astoria high for a period of ten years, included dances, songs, and romance in the far West. The main character was Geraldine Bank, portrayed by Virginia Swart, who was forced to come West. Sandy Bank, played by Shirley Hillard, was literally dragged West by her mother, Lettice, Paula Beyers, who wanted her to marry Alan O'Day, David Thorsnes. To add hilarity to the situation, characters such as Amos Bank, Richard Bjork; Mimi, the flapper, Joyce Widen; Uncle Pete, with his friendly western greeting, played by Dick Alberding; John Drayton, Alan's cousin, Floyd Deaver; and Dora, an old maid portrayed by Betty Lowrey, were added. The business staff which worked hard to put the production over were members of the music department.

Ending his second year as head football and track coach, Stranz put his light gridsters through a tough schedule. With a heavy nine-game schedule slated for next season, Coach Stranz will have seven returning lettermen to bolster next year's team.

Scoring a touchdown in the first minute of the fourth quarter, the Fighting Fishermen defeated Raymond 14-0 to win their initial game of the season.

Astoria's gridsters stunned Ilwaco by racking up 19 points in the first quarter and going on to win 19-13.

Overwhelming the Purple and Gold with strong running and passing attack, the Hood River Dragons swamped Astoria 37-0.

Supporting an even win-and-loss record the Fishermen were humbled 26-5 by Central Catholic of Portland.

Still dazed from their previous loss, the Fishers lost a thriller to Milwaukie 7 to 0. Astoria lost its fourth game of the season to Salem 37-0, playing on their water-soaked field.

Bewildered by a hot Seaside eleven, the Fighting Fishermen came out on the short end of a 19-0 score.

Astoria's Purple and Gold grid eleven, playing their last game of the season, were overrun by Hillsboro 27-0 in a loosely-fought contest.

BASKETBALL

The 1946-47 version of the Astoria basketeers had a hot-and-cold season. They started the season with one-point wins over Ilwaco and Naselle. After this was to come the disastrous eleven-game losing spree. It was started by the Fishermen losing to Battle Ground and continued until the Fishermen managed to pull the Redmond game out of the fire. The locals were a rejuvenated ball club after this, and just to prove it they went on an eight-game winning skein. In these eight games was the first game of the district 10 play-offs in which the Fishermen beat Seaside. This hot streak was broken by Hood River and Central Catholic. The Fishermen played consistent ball after this, winning 13 of the remaining 17 games of the season. The Finns earned their way to the State Tournament by trouncing Seaside 41-38 and 46-37. They also won two from the Tillamook Cheesemakers 41-30 and 39-30 to sweep the district playoffs. At the tournament the Fishermen didn't fare so well losing their first game to Washington 39-28. The Finns lost to Redmond 42-31, and this eliminated them from the meet.

Jayvees

Sparked by forward Duane Hansen, the Jayvees have added another successful season to the record books by winning 19 out of 23 games. Hansen, a junior and probable first-string man next year, led all scorers with a record of 244 points, or an average of about 10 points a game. He also broke the varsity scoring record by making 29 points in a single game. Losses included games with Knappa-Svensen, Warrenton, Garibaldi, and Larsen's Independents. These were due mostly to larger teams. Under the direction of Mr. Grayum, the Junior Varsity's season has proved worthwhile.
